The Election

The election Tuesday passed off very quietly in Powell county. The result shows divided success for county officers. The Democrats elect W. T. McGuire for Representative over Sherman Robbins; H. T. Derickson, County Judge over Norvel Wireman; I. S. Boone, County Clerk over H. S. Martin; C. O. Bowen, Tax Commissioner without opposition, and Grover Palmer, Jailor over Butler Barnes. The Republicans elect Marion Welch for Sheriff over F. G. Powell; A. T. Stewart, County Attorney over Marion Atkinson and Guy Crowe, Circuit Clerk over C. N. Crowe. Judge Shackelford was elected Circuit Judge and W. J. Baxter, Commonwealth's Attorney without opposition. The stock law carried in this county and school amendments both lost. Allen Wills and J. B. Rogers were elected members of the Board of Education.

Following is the vote received in the county for the various offices with the majority of the successful candidates extended:

For Representative
W. T. McGuire, Dem. 965—111
Sherman Robbins, Rep. 854

For Circuit Clerk
C. N. Crowe, Dem. 876
Guy M. Crowe, Rep. 970—94

County Judge
H. T. Derickson, Dem. 984—7
N. D. Wireman, Rep. 977

County Attorney
Marion Atkinson, Dem. 851
A. T. Stewart, Rep. 982—131

County Clerk
I. S. Boone, Dem. 1032—173
H. S. Martin, Rep. 859

For Sheriff
F. G. Powell, Dem. 915
Marion Welch, Rep. 1011—96

In the Virden precinct the school ballots ran out, leaving forty or more votes not cast in this precinct.

Rough Day in Kentucky

Election day in Kentucky was a very rough day in some parts of the state. It was attended by killings in a few counties. Fights, cuts, shots, knock downs and arrests in others. It was a disgraceful day upon the whole. The Times is proud of the behavior in Powell and holds up this county as a very sane one especially on election days.

Election Dinner Success

The Mothers' Club Election dinner was a success, something near fifty dollars being realized on the venture for the benefit of the city school. The persistency of the members in raising money for the school is indeed commendable of them. The money being raised by these splendid ladies and the personal attention to the school, is showing favorable results.

To Be Electrically Lighted

The new Presbyterian church is being wired for electricity. The church will get current from the Wiley's light plant of Lyle & Company near the church. The wiring is being done by the Clay City Light & Electric Company.

Free Advertising

The Times in its opposition to the two amendments prior to the election came in for a little free advertising in one of the county's leading schools. Our thanks are due the teacher that gave us this advertising and likewise to the voters of Powell county and Kentucky for vindicating our better judgment in the matter. If "ignorance" did prompt our judgment, it is unfortunate that the required number of voters to kill the measures seem to have been likewise afflicted.

Send For This Bulletin

Here is a bulletin you ought to have before hog killing time. It is Farmers' Bulletin 1186, "Pork on the Farm." It tells how to kill, cure and can. Write at once to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., and ask for a copy. While we shall have an article on meat curing in next issue, this bulletin will tell you a lot of things we cannot find space for.

Public Sales

Two public sales are advertised in this issue of the Times. Green Kinser will sell personal property here in Clay City Tuesday, Nov 15th, and the Wingate Anderson heirs will sell a farm near Stanton at public sale Friday, Nov. 18th. Read the ads elsewhere in this paper and learn particulars of both sales.

Factory Representative Here

J. D. O'Connelly, factory representative of the Electric Auto Lite Corporation was here from Toledo Ohio, Tuesday and Wednesday. He represented the Willys Light division and was in the county to give attention to any of the plants here that might need it.

Change in the 23rd.

Judge Back, Democrat, seems to have defeated Judge Saml. Hurst in Estill, Lee and Breathitt Judicial District for Circuit Judge, and J. M. McDaniel has won over W. L. Kash, the Republican nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney.

Large Turnip

Mrs. W. H. Smitson, of Virden, brought to this office the largest turnip of the season. It measured fifteen inches around and weighed two and one-half pounds.

In Serious Condition

James McKinney, who was taken last week to the Bush Hospital at Winchester, is in a serious condition, and his recovery is very doubtful.

Hog Killing Time

Time to kill hogs and the weather is "fitten" to butcher too. Spare ribs and sausage will soon be plentiful through the country.

Mrs. McKinney Better

Mrs. Ellen McKinney was very sick for several days but is now improving.

Johnny, Get Your Gun

The hunting season opens next Tuesday and will remain open until January 1, 1922. But you are not at liberty to kill all the birds you can, twelve being the limit for one day. Quail is plentiful this year, and it will be an easy matter to kill more than one dozen in a day. Don't forget to carry your hunting license when you carry your gun. You will get into trouble if you do not have your license. Having the license at home does not count. You must have them with your gun.

New Insurance Agency

Mr. G. D. Howell, of this city, has associated himself with Mr. S. B. Tracy, the well known real estate and insurance agent of Winchester, and will write fire as well as life insurance. These gentlemen have secured a nice ad space in the Times. See them when you need in insurance or want to buy or sell real estate.

Buy But Buy Wisely

W. D. Nicholls, who is a successful farmer and a well known specialist at the Experiment Station at Lexington, has the following to say concerning false economy in the Southern Agriculsturist:

During the present period when farmers are forced to practice rigid economy it is important to distinguish between wise and unwise expenditures. It is entirely correct that farmers should avoid making purchases of unnecessary equipment. However, economy does not consist in not buying, but in buying wisely.

There are many cases in which farmers suffer losses or forego possible profits by failure to buy needed equipment. This was the case recently when the writer purchased a light truck for delivering milk to the market. This purchase entailed the expenditure of a considerable sum, but the new equipment makes possible more satisfactory and economical transportation. Our years of business experience in farming have shown that it is frequently necessary to spend money in order to make money, and we have never hesitated to spend money for equipment when careful calculation demonstrated to our satisfaction that we would recover the money invested together with a good profit.

Soy Beans are a Safe Crop

The clipping given below is not for the reader who has grown soy beans. It is for the farmer who has never used them; but is thinking about it. The article was written for the Southern Agriculturist by E. J. Kinney of the College of Agriculture.

The use of soy beans in Kentucky has increased at a great rate during the last few years and this year the acreage planted was probably nearly double that of last year. Farmers are finding them a most reliable pay crop, resisting both drought and excessive moisture exceptionally well. They are also finding that soy bean hay is one of the best of legume hays despite its somewhat unattractive appearance. The greatest increase in the use of soy beans is for planting in corn, both for hogging down and for soil improvement. In one county in Western Kentucky it is reported that soy beans were planted in at least half the corn grown in that county. In some localities the production of soy bean seed is an important industry and the growers find the crop as profitable as any other crop they can grow. The demand for seed has been good and the price satisfactory.

The soy bean fits into rotation nicely and is being used where clover fails. It is a safe prediction that it will be but a few years until soy beans will be regarded as one of Kentucky's standard crops.

Just received at Mrs. Williams' a nice line of Ladies' Coats and Suits. Call and examine, buy and save.

WEAK BLOOD IS
A REAL BARRIES*Growing Children
Often Need Gude's
Pepto-Mangan

Some children grow too quickly—it saps their strength. They lapse into careless, desultory habits, or develop a shrinking attitude. Their faces look pinched.

The blood becomes over taxed by too rapid growth; and poisons from the system take the place of strengthgiving red corpuscles in the blood. Red corpuscles are those little red particles that swim in blood and give it its color. Gradually that child loses interest in its play.

Poor blood needs the building that the iron in Gude's Pepto-Mangan gives to weakened blood. Gude's Pepto Mangan enriches the blood by increasing the number of red corpuscles, and restores the blood by driving out the poisons. When the revived blood gets to work, the appetite becomes what a growing child's should be. Your druggist has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. The name "Gudes Pepto-Mangan" is on every package.—Advertisement.

Miss Della C. Portwood spent Sunday and Sunday night with Miss Carrie Napier.

Miss Della C. Portwood spent Friday night with her parents at Clay City and Saturday with Miss Ida King of this place.

We had a fine meeting at Cane Creek Gap church Saturday night and Sunday. Rev. VanCleave, of Spout Spring, preached a fine sermon and three other ministers gave us some fine talks. In spite of all our good sermons the "moonshines" on and the pistols "peal." We are going to have services on the hill, boys, come on let's have some fun. Church is not a place for fun, it's a place of worship. Leave your moonshine on the outside, and out entirely, also your pistols. Come to the house of God and worship Him.

F. G. Prevo, Bedford, Ind., writes this: "I gripped me with a severe cough. I lost weight and got so thin I looked as though I would never get well again. I took Foley's Honey and Tar and after taking two bottles I am now well and back to my former weight."

Plant Some Fruit

Once a boy grew up on a farm. It was not a big farm, or a specially rich one, but it was a good farm to live on. For apple trees grew on it, long rows of them in the orchard, scattered trees here and there. There were nut trees, too, and a row of tall gooseberry bushes and one tremendous climbing grapevine when the boy can first remember. As he lived on the farm he saw other grapevines set out and come into bearing and a cherry orchard, and other apple trees, and other fruits. He used to fill his pockets with Harvest apples when he went to bring in the cows in the summer and carry especially fine Nickajacks to the teacher when he went to school in the fall, and lunch on mellowing Limbertwigs when the blue birds came with the first spring days.

It may not have been the apples, and the cherries, the grapes and the berries only, but certainly it was they in part that caused him to grow up with a love for the old farm and the country in his heart, that kept his mind true to the fields and woods and the ways and feeling of country folk through years of city life, and that took him back to the country when he began making a home for his own boys to grow up on.

There are farms on which no fruit grows, and children live on these farms. One to whom the very word "farm" brings a picture blossoming or fruit-laden orchards, of the hum of bees, of the fragrance of the cider press, and the preserving kettle cannot but wonder at the farmers who make farms of that sort, and cannot but feel sorry for the children who cannot raid the berry patch and the orchard or go hunting walnuts in the back pasture.

THE "OLD RELIABLE" THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

White Haired Alabama Lady Says She Has Seen Medicines Come and Go But The "Old Reliable" Thedford's Black-Draught Came and Stayed.

Dutton, Ala.—In recommending Thedford's Black-Draught to her friends and neighbors here, Mrs. T. F. Parks, a well-known Jackson County lady, said: "I am getting up in years; my head is pretty white. I have seen medicines and remedies come and go but the old reliable came and stayed. I am talking of Black-Draught, a liver medicine we have used for years—one that can be depended upon and one that will do the work."

"Black-Draught will relieve indigestion and constipation if taken right, and I know for I tried it. It is the best thing I have ever found for the full, uncomfortable feeling after meals. Sour stomach and sick headache can be relieved by taking Black-Draught. It aids digestion, also assists the liver in throwing off impurities. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, and do, to my friends and neighbors."

Thedford's Black-Draught is a standard household remedy with a record of over seventy years of successful use. Every one occasionally needs something to help cleanse the system of impurities. Try Black-Draught. Insist upon Thedford's, the genuine.
